NEW HORIZON

➤ Get Ready for Tax Season  24
(With Quick Guide for Preparers)
CONTENTS

JANUARY 2012

Vol. 213 www.journalofaccountancy.com

Issue 1

ARTICLES

30 | FINANCIAL REPORTING
A New System for Recognizing Revenue
by Matthew G. Lamoreaux
Learn how FASB and the IASB's revised exposure draft would streamline accounting for revenue across industries.

For CPAs in business and industry

36 | PRACTICE MANAGEMENT / BUSINESS & INDUSTRY
Board of Education: CPA Firms, Businesses Can Profit From Clients' Advice
by Jeff Drew
Looking to improve your firm or company's operations, strengthen ties with your customers and generate more business? Client advisory boards can provide invaluable feedback, not to mention a significant source of fresh revenue. This article shows you how to organize, run and profit from a client advisory board.

For managing partners of CPA firms and CPAs in business and industry

42 | PRACTICE MANAGEMENT
Bridging Compensation Gaps in a Merger
by Joel Sinkin and Chris Frederiksen, CPA
CPA firms looking to merge must clear many hurdles. One of the trickiest can be reconciling differences in pay and benefits packages between merging firms. This article features two case studies showing how to handle these situations.

For CPAs in public practice, especially managing and other partners

24 | TAX
Tax Relief and Health Care Acts Shape 2011 Returns
by Paul Bonner
Keep on top of this tax filing season's changes in tax law and practice and procedure. Plus: A tear-out card with a handy collection of important numbers for individual returns to keep at your fingertips during tax season.

For CPA tax practitioners
46 | FINANCIAL REPORTING
One Size Does Not Fit All
by Judith A. Kamnikar, CPA; Edward G. Kamnikar, CPA; and Ashley Burrowes
After more than a year of study, a blue-ribbon panel has called for an autonomous standard setter for private companies. A proposal on the table at the Financial Accounting Foundation falls short of that approach and would instead create an improvement council whose work would be subject to FASB approval. This article briefly outlines the history of the issue and takes a glimpse at tiered GAAP models proposed outside the U.S.

50 | TAX
IRS Audits of Small Business Software Files
by Jim Buttonow, CPA/CITP
The IRS has been increasing its use of small business taxpayer electronic files in examinations. Here are some of the latest developments and tips.

55 | TAX
The Basics of S Corporation Stock Basis
by Meredith A. Menden, CPA
Annual income, distributions and loans can all affect an S corporation shareholder's basis, in sometimes surprising ways, and piecing together several years of S corporation stock basis information can be a tedious and sometimes impossible task. CPAs can help their shareholder clients avoid this mess by tracking basis from day one or as soon as they realize that their clients' basis records are lax.

56 | TECHNOLOGY Q&A
An aggregate answer to two Excel questions...A solution for dummies...What 11-letter word do all CPAs spell incorrectly?...A bold folder...The Thomas database...The right sort...A super footnote reference

60 | TAX MATTERS
PTIN Procedures Detailed
New Law, Proposed Regs Heighten EITC Preparer Due Diligence
Mortgage Interest Deduction Allowed for Home Never Built
 Qui Tam Award Held Taxable
Estate Tax Protective Claim Procedures Detailed Line Items

65 | FROM THE TAX ADVISER
Top-Hat Retirement Plans

66 | INSIDE AICPA
Kess and Voynich receive Gold Medal for contributions to the profession...Members noted for AICPA volunteer service...Scholarships awarded to minority accounting students...U.S. CPA exam to be administered in Brazil...CPA2Biz